Scranton's Business Interests.
THE TRIBUNE will soon publish a carefully compiled and classified list of the leading wholesale, banking, manufacturing and professional interests of Scranton and vicinity. The edition will be bound in book form, beautifully illustrated with photographs of our public buildings, business blocks, streets, etc., together with portraits of leading citizens. No similar work has ever given an equal representation of Scranton's many industries. It will be an invaluable exposition of our business resources. Sent to persons outside the city, copies of this handsome work will attract new comers and be an unequalled advertisement of the city. The circulation on a plan that cannot fail of good results to those concerned as well as the city at large. Representatives of THE TRIBUNE will call upon those whose names are desired in this edition and explain the nature more fully.

These desired views of their residences in this edition will please have notice at the office.

Mother! Mother! Mother!!!
Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for over fifty years by millions of mothers for their children while teething with perfect success. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

Dr. A. E. Bunn, having opened his offices in the Burr building, Washington avenue, will resume the practice of his profession, where he is glad to serve his old patrons and public in general.

NEWS OF WEST SIDE

Funeral of Captain William Davis Very Largely Attended.

GIVEN A VETERAN'S BURIAL

Many Beautiful Floral Tributes from Sorrowing Friends and Associates.

J. C. Miller, While Cleaning His Revolver, Shot and Seriously Wounded His Little Son—Farrell—Kelly Nuptials—Other Items.

(The West Side office of the SCRANTON TRIBUNE is located at 113 North Main avenue, where subscriptions, advertisements and communications will receive prompt attention.)

The funeral of Captain William Davis took place yesterday afternoon from his late residence on North Hyde Park avenue. In the parlor the remains rested in a handsome black casket which was hidden from view by the multitude of floral offerings.

At 2 o'clock the funeral procession moved to the Simpson Methodist Episcopal church. It was led by Chief of the Fire Department H. F. Ferber and E. E. Robertson, the following organizations being in line: Nay Aug Engine company, General Phinney Engine company, Phoenix and Columbia hose companies and Hyde Park castle, No. 33, Knights of the Mystic Chain.

Then came the ex-members of the Franklin company and the Franklin hose wagon. It was beautifully trimmed and had been converted into a hearse to transport the remains to their last resting place. A large delegation of veterans from Griffin post, No. 159, Grand Army of the Republic, with S. B. Mott in command, and headed by the Thirtieth Regiment Drum corps followed. Then came the members of the West Side Central Republican league and the present members of the Franklin Fire company with a long line of carriages containing mourners and city officials bringing up the rear. Among the most beautiful of the countless floral tributes were a pillow inscribed "Papa," presented by the children; a star and crescent by the Ancient Order Knights of the Mystic Chain, an anchor inscribed "Papa," a pillow with the department badge worked in with flowers by the General Phinney hose company, a beautiful fireman's hat worked in flowers by the Franklin company.

The flower bearers were M. H. Biesseker, of the General Phinney; T. M. Richards, of the Franklin's; Thomas E. Lewis, of the Mystic Chain, and Samuel Gross, of Post 159 Grand Army of the Republic. At the church the procession moved slowly up the aisle to the music on the organ by Walter Davis. The services opened with a selection by a quartette consisting of Miss Cora Storm, Mrs. Frank Rees, Professor William Jones and Will Beck, who sang "I'm Nearer My Home."

The speaker was Rev. J. J. Jones, of the Westminster Presbyterian church; Rev. J. T. Morris, of the Bellevue Calvinistic Methodist church, whose remarks were in the Welsh language, and Rev. L. C. Floyd, D. D.

After the services were concluded the procession moved out to the Washington Street cemetery, where Captain Davis was accorded a veteran's burial. The pall bearers were: From the Franklins, William Kime and Thomas Allen; from the Grand Army of the Republic, George W. Wilder and George Hadley; from the Mystic Chain, Edward R. Jones and W. L. Steenbach.

SHOT HIS LITTLE SON.

J. C. Miller Didn't Know His Revolver Was Loaded.

About 11:30 o'clock yesterday morning J. C. Miller, proprietor of a cigar store on North Main avenue, accidentally shot his young son Joseph, a lad of about 4 years. The boy's condition is very serious, but Dr. Moylean, the attending physician, has hopes for his recovery.

Mr. Miller was cleaning the weapon at the time. He supposed it was empty, and snapped the trigger. The cartridge exploded, and the ball entered his son's body between the thigh and abdomen.

Mr. Miller is shocked and greatly unnerved by the unfortunate accident.

LITTLE WEST SIDE NEWS NOTES.

Hampton Mine Accidental Fund will run an excursion to Lake Ariel today.

Professor Theodore Hemberger returned yesterday from a few days visit to Ithaca, N. Y.

Mrs. Thomas Jones wife of Officer Jones, of North Sumner avenue, is recovering from her recent illness.

Will Phillips, of North Rebecca avenue, was painfully injured on Monday by having his eye struck by a piece of steel while working in the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western car shops. It is not known whether he will lose the member or not.

The members of the Welsh Calvinistic Methodist church had a most successful excursion to Lake Ariel yesterday. Five cars loaded with excursionists left Erie and Wyoming Valley railroad depot at 8:30 o'clock and a most pleasant day was spent at the lake.

Dr. J. J. Walsh, M. Berry, Margo Conway, Mrs. Gillespie and daughter, Ella, of Church street; Mrs. P. Bohan, Mrs. J. Allan, Mrs. J. H. Glennon, Mrs. Ed Barrett, Mrs. T. D. Kearney, Thomas Mangin, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Conlan, N. Ellis Craig and Nellie Conway, of Pittston, attended the funeral of Mrs. Durkin, in Hyde Park, yesterday.

An interesting session of the West Side board of trade was held last evening in their rooms at Clark's Hall on South Main avenue. Many members were present.

The meeting was called to order by D. M. Jones, the newly elected president, and the minutes of the preceding meeting were read by the secretary, Charles E. Daniels. Many questions were discussed, among them being the bridge, viaduct and parks.

Remnants for children's dresses at half price at our sale of remnants Thursday, June 14. MEARS & HAGER.

Funeral services over the remains of the late Mrs. Alice Durkin were held yesterday morning at 9 o'clock from the family home on North Hyde Park avenue. A solemn high mass of requiem was celebrated in St. Patrick's church, of which Rev. Father Dunne was celebrant. Rev. Father McNally, deacon and Father Pricker, sub-deacon. Father Dunne preached the sermon from the text, "Blessed Are They Who Die in the Lord." Many beautiful floral tributes were presented. The pall bearers were: D. J. McCann, P. J. Kelly, William O'Malley, T. J. Kelly, J. J. Fisher and J. Duffy. Interment was made in Hyde Park Catholic cemetery.

A pretty wedding was that of William Farver, of Washburn street, to Miss Mary A. Kelly, which was solemnized in St.

EXAMINED AT GREAT LENGTH

Jury in the Case of Robert Tinsley Against John Walsh Asked for Special Instructions from Judge Edwards—Carbondale Township Cows Responsible for a Case on Trial Before Judge Searle.

Dr. Hand's case against the Central Telephone company still continues to occupy the attention of Judge Archibald's court. The first witness called yesterday morning was Assistant City Clerk Evan R. Morris, the object of whose testimony was to prove that the company had no right to operate telephone wires in the city.

Dr. Charles H. Finer, John Barnett and S. P. Longstreet were sworn, their testimony occupying the attention of the court until 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Numerous hypothetical questions, predicated upon Dr. Hand's physical health in the past, as well as his present condition, were asked the physician, and it was noticed that their answers did not always agree with the medical text books which Major Warren keeps closest hand, although as a general rule the doctors like to modify their statements, to which lawyers generally object in the trial of cases.

A number of the physicians of the city are interested spectators of the proceedings.

J. E. Fern, Perry Fuller, W. Dehl and Harry Smith were recalled after the attorneys had got through with the doctors for the day.

NO VERDICT REACHED.

Before Judge Edwards in court room No. 2 the case of Robert Tinsley against John Walsh consumed the principal part of the forenoon. The jury spent the entire afternoon pondering over the facts in the case as brought out during the trial, and just before court adjourned for the day they came into the court room and requested special information. It was imparted by Judge Edwards, who told them to seal their verdict in case they arrived at an agreement before morning.

At the conclusion of the trial of the foregoing case a jury was empaneled in the trial of Edward E. Doyle & Sons against the Hamburg Bremen Insurance company. Judge Jessop represents the plaintiffs and Attorney E. N. Willard the defendant company. The suit is brought to recover $132, the amount of a fire policy on a store in Danmore, and which was burned on Nov. 24, 1891. The case had not been completed when court adjourned for the day.

COWS IN THE CASE.

Judge Searle, of Montrose, presided in court room No. 3 at the trial of the case of William Williams against Patrick Brown. Attorney J. Alton Davis appeared for the plaintiff and Attorneys Squire and Burr, of Carbondale, for the defendant. The case is an appeal from the judgment given by the justice of the peace.

The plaintiff claims that the defendant's cows broke down his fence and destroyed his garden vegetables and property, for which he seeks to recover the equivalent in damages. The defense will be that the cows did not break into the garden, for the reason that there was no fence worthy the name. The parties reside in Carbondale township.

WORK OF WOMEN'S AUXILIARY.

They Turn More Than $300 Over to Benefit of Associated Charities.

At a meeting yesterday afternoon of the Women's auxiliary of the Associated Charities over $300 were turned in by a number of the ladies who have been selling membership tickets. This sum, with the money previously reported, makes about $700 obtained up to today.

The largest sum brought to yesterday's meeting was $163 by Mrs. A. K. Sanderson, of Green Ridge. The amount included a $50 membership sold Mrs. Conrad Schroeder. Others who reported with various sums were Mrs. A. E. Pettigrew, Mrs. P. J. Horan, Miss Tillie Hawley, Mrs. W. H. Freeman, Mrs. T. J. Luce and Mrs. J. D. Clark.

Mr. C. F. Barnard, president of the Auxiliary, presided at the meeting.

For Violating Sunday Law.

Rev. F. A. Dony will prosecute the following cases before Alderman Post tomorrow at 9 o'clock in the morning and 2 o'clock in the afternoon: McFarrell & Thomas and William Gaughan, clerks; Frank Dovers, clerk at Phelps' drug store; Henry Hoegler, baker and clerk; Italian, vendor, Sixth and West Market streets; P. J. Vetter, druggist, Penn avenue. These are for violations of the Sunday law. The meeting of the executive committee of the Pastors' union which was continued from the affair of the afternoon at 5 o'clock at the Young Men's Christian association building.

Pendle & Wenzel's and Ballantine's Ales are the best. E. J. Walski, Agent, 32 Lackawanna avenue.

THE ROOMS OF THE SOUTH SIDE YOUNG WOMEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION were thrown open last night to a number of invited guests, and informal social made the hours pass away pleasantly. There was no programme, gauding the arrangements of the different numbers. All the members gathered themselves in an impromptu manner and the outcome was an occasion of enjoyment and laughter. Next Tuesday night Mrs. Henry Carr, wife of the librarian of the Albright library, will give a talk before the association on the Indians.

Willis, the 6-year-old son of Cornelius Stokes, of Minocqua, met with an accident last Friday, which will result in the loss of one of his eyes. He was using a table tool in loosening a knot on one of his shoe strings and the fork slipped and one of the prongs pierced the eye ball of his right eye below the pupil. Dr. Fisher to whom he was brought for treatment, advises the family to take the child to Philadelphia today for that purpose.

A rifle for the benefit of Mrs. Lloyd, 1163 Lloyd street, will be held June 13.

The sheriff has taken possession of the butcher shop occupied by R. D. Braden, on North Main avenue.

D. C. Tunstall and J. U. Hopewell, of the Register office, spent a pleasant day fishing at Lake Ariel yesterday.

E. D. Jones has left Providence for Atlantic City, and not for Atlantic City, as stated in some of yesterday's papers.

Rev. R. P. Williams, of Holyhood, North Wales, will pay a visit to Scranton during the past week. Mr. Williams is well known to members of the congregational body.

The joint executive committee of the Parital Congregational church and the Welsh Baptist church will meet this evening at 7:30 at L. N. Roberts' office, 110 West Market street.
